WHERE THERE'S LIFE. The melancholy days are gone, The real blue days are here, When pennant hopes are gone for good, At least, until next year.

A few short months ago we hoped, We said we'd win the flag; But now it seems we simply doped Some one else to cop the rag.

The team we saw we can't see now; There's little cause for cheer, But we cannot get away, somehow, From hoping for next year.

Our team is nearing the bottom now, They're "limping in the rear," But there's always comfort in the thought, They'll play real ball—next year. —Adapted from Louisville Herald.

The piece of work you dream most is the one to tackle first.

The congregation of the North Middletown Christian Church have had plans drawn for the erection of a new Church building, and the work will be started within the next few days.

Same Teams Pull Off Another Game Today

Yesterday afternoon out at the park there was a barrel of fun and the gentle rooster certainly had a run for his money.

Umpire Patterson was the goat and up to the close of the first game Pat was about the most unpopular man in ten states with the home fans.

But after Hunsicker and Keith went after Patterson and threatened to knock his block off and "take him to the river," and to kick "all out of him generally, why Pat "seen a light" and seemed to "give our boys a square deal (?) " which must have helped to blank Paris 3 to 0 in the last game.

It's a good thing that the average Umpire is a man of even temper and don't carry a gun, else every game would end with a killing or two.

The first game went to ten innings and ended with a score of 4 to 2 in favor of Paris. The Rivermen should have won it, but poor judgment in several close plays lost the game for the locals.

In the second game the teams were more evenly matched. It went the allotted seven innings and was won by Maysville by the score of 3 to 0. The features were the splendid running catch by Lake of Chapman's long drive in the third inning of the first game and the base running of Langenham and the batting of Locke in the second game.

The score follows: Paris..... 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2-4 Maysville..... 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-2

Two-base Hits—Williams, Kunkle 2, Carmory, Chapman. Sacrifice Hits—Goodman, Hauser, Harrell, Dunlap. Stolen Bases—Chapman, Langenham, Lake, Williams. Base on Balls—Off Hauser 3, off Vance 1. Struck Out—By Hauser 9, by Vance 5. Left on Bases—Paris 4, Maysville 7. Double Plays—Locke, Harrell, Molenkamp, 2. Wild Pitch—Hauser. First Base on Errors—Paris 1. Time—2:00. Umpire—Patterson.

Three-base Hit—Locke. Sacrifice Hits—Kunkle, Reed. Stolen Bases—Harrell, Langenham 2, Kunkle. Base on Balls—Off Apple-gate 2. Struck Out—By Beer 6. Left on Bases—Paris 4, Maysville 2. Double Plays—Reed, Carmory; Goodman, Kuhnman. Time—1:10. Umpire—Patterson.

BIG REUNION At Maysville of Tenth and Sixteenth Kentucky Regiments on September 18th SPRINGDALE, KY., August 6th, 1912. Mr. A. M. January, Assistant Secretary, Maysville, Ky. Dear Sir: The Annual Reunion of the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and the Sixteenth Kentucky Infantry will be held in Maysville, September 18th, 1912. This being the fiftieth anniversary of the enlistment of the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry at Maysville, it is suggested that an effort be made to celebrate on a more elaborate scale than heretofore. With this end in view, I am asking a number of citizens to meet me at Hoiser Post Room, Cox Building, on Saturday, August 10th at 2 o'clock, p. m., to determine whether or not the patriotic citizens of Maysville will cooperate with the officers and friends of the Association in arranging a suitable program for the occasion. IN SLAVERY DAYS Old Document Tells How Human Beings Were Bought and Sold Like Cattle The following document, being a receipt for the purchase of a young Negro woman named Emaline, and dated in 1852, sixty years ago, has been handed in to THE PUBLIC LEDGER for publication. It is a gentle reminder of the days when the servant girl problem had its arisen over the domestic horizon of Maysville. "In those good old days" (?) Negro men, women and children were considered beasts of burden and were beaten and even murdered by their white masters. Many times in the South white men have brained their black slaves with bludgeons or shot them down, killing them, and the murderers were never even arrested. Following is a copy of the receipt mentioned: Received of David L. Wells $650 in full for a Negro girl named Emaline, about 14 years old, which Negro I warrant sound and healthy in body and mind and a slave for life. Given under my hand October 23d, 1852. [The vendor was one of the wealthiest aristocrats of Maysville of ante-bellum days.] The David Wells mentioned was the late Captain D. L. Wells of Murphysville and a brother of Squire John E. Wells of this city. It is worthy of mention that Captain Wells at once set the girl Emaline free after buying her and she went North. Captain Wells was a gallant officer in the old Sixteenth Kentucky Regiment, very few of the members of which now survive. His widow still enjoys good health and resides at Murphysville. Col. B. S. Wells of this city is a step-son of Captain Wells and handed us the old document.

FOR PRESIDENT, WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, JAMES S. SHERMAN.

NO DEMOCRATIC WALKOVER.

The fact that the Republican party has split naturally brings confidence to the Democrats of the country as to their winning the election in November.

For two months prior to the Baltimore Convention it was quite evident that the divisions among the Republicans were aiding the changes for a Democratic victory, and when that convention met every member of it felt that success was very probable in the campaign.

For one month now the Republican factions have been doing better service for the Democratic party than the most zealous Democrats could do for it, and it has possibly been good policy for the Democrats throughout the year to allow the row in the ranks of their party to proceed to a finish without interference.

It is, however, should not be over-estimated, however, should not be over-estimated, however, should not be over-estimated, however, should not be over-estimated.

There may be no choice in the Electoral College selected in November.

There may be local divisions among the Democrats in some states almost essential to success that may affect the electoral votes of those states, and in these days of independent voting and of three parties to arrange combinations with independent or dissatisfied voters, situations may be changed with surprising rapidity.

Four weeks have passed since the Democratic candidates were named at Baltimore, but if the leaders of the party have done more than to rejoice at Republican differences their work is not apparent to the public.

This campaign is to be no walkover for the Democratic party, and it is not wise politics to rely upon weakness, in the oppositions ranks.

—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"FOR REVENUE ONLY."

So it is to be a Tariff "for revenue only" if the Democrats get in. Well, Great Britain has a Tariff for revenue only, which is the nearest approach to Free-Trade in practice in any great nation. And Great Britain collects a duty on coffee and tea, which come into this country free. She collects it because practically everybody uses it, rich and poor, and the revenue from it grows rapidly. They come into this country free because, not producing them ourselves, they do not enter into competition with our own products, and it is desired that the consumer get them as cheaply as possible.

A Tariff for revenue only is one intended to raise a certain amount of money, without regard to who pays it. A Protective Tariff is one which puts the duty on articles that are manufactured more cheaply abroad than they can be in this country without wage reductions and so equalizes the differences in the cost of labor.

The nearest the United States ever came to having a Tariff for revenue only since the policy of Protection was first inaugurated in 1893 to 1896. That was the soup-house era in American history. The New York World at that time gave away more than a million loaves of bread to families that were starving because the business of the country had been paralyzed.

Evidently The World is itching to again embark in such a charity, for it is advocating the election to the Presidency of Woodrow Wilson, who is and always has been an out-and-out Free-Trader and subscribes to the Democratic platform of a "Tariff for revenue only."—Johnstown (Pa.) Leader.

HAPPENINGS IN THE CITIES

Sarsfield Aboo Heard Call of Wild

NEW YORK.—To the unspeakable amazement of James Ford, a veteran cab driver, his veteran horse, Sarsfield Aboo, nineteen years old, ran away the other afternoon. The amazement of Ford was shared by his fares, Mr. and Mrs. William Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Jones of Slattington, Pa., who had engaged Ford and his rig at the Liberty street ferry because of the demure appearance and deliberate gait of the aforesaid Sarsfield Aboo.

Incidental to the runaway the visitors from Slattington, Pa., were the cynosure of all eyes and the assaults of all ears along Fifth avenue from Eighth street to Fourteenth street. At the latter point Policemen Delehanty and Herrington leaped upon Sarsfield Aboo and bore him to the pavement to the utter destruction of his new uniforms and the accumulation of bruises, sprains and contusions which gained them the unsolicited sick leave of a department surgeon.

James Ford was sitting on the box of his weatherbeaten cab at the Liberty street ferry when the Slattington visitors approached him and evinced a desire to be transferred to the Grand Central station in time to catch a train for Millwood, N. Y. "Clack-clack-clack," sounded the ample hoofs of Sarsfield Aboo on the wet and shiny pavements until Eighth street and Fifth avenue was reached. At that crossing Jehu Ford endeavored to urge Sarsfield Aboo across the car tracks ahead of an automobile proceeding from east to west.

The automobile struck the rear right wheel of the cab and swung it about so violently that Ford was jarred from his seat and fell sprawling to the street. With a loud honk of the horn the automobile sped west and Sarsfield Aboo, elevating his head and tail, sped north.

Feeling the call of the wild or something, Sarsfield Aboo extended himself with every jump. By the time he reached Ninth street he was moving like Ballyhoo Bey coming down the stretch under wharf and spur. Delehanty and Herrington, glants in stature and cool of mind, saw the runaway coming. With businesslike nonchalance they placed themselves so Sarsfield Aboo and the trailing cab would have to come between them.

Delehanty grabbed the bridle and hung on. Herrington got the reins and hung on. The cops fell and were dragged across Fourteenth street, but the weight told on Sarsfield Aboo and as he essayed to turn and shake them off he got tangled up in his own feet and fell.

David Harum "Out Harumed" in Chicago

CHICAGO.—When Samuel Baker, 1106 South Wood street, had to knock down part of his barn and rebuild it to get back on its feet a horse which he had recently purchased he decided that he had been swindled by one Harry Goldstein, 1024 South Robey street, and brought suit against him.

How David Harum was out-harumed was shown at the hearing before Municipal Judge Dolan. The horse had been guaranteed to be able "to lie down and get up." According to Baker, the animal could lie down, all right, but getting it back on its feet again was like moving the Alps.

Baker testified that he had tried the horse for one day, but had neglected to test it on the "lying down" proposition. He said he returned the horse to Goldstein and, after some dickering, in which the purchase price was reduced from $125 to $80, the deal was closed.

When he placed the animal in his stable for the night, the horse lay down as usual, but when Baker went to the stable the next morning, Baker pulled and tugged and tugged and pulled at the halter, but in vain. Assistance was summoned, props were placed under the prostrate animal and impromptu derricks were tried. It was of no use. Every time the horse was raised a few inches it fell back harder and was imbedded deeper in the straw.

"I couldn't budge him," Baker told the court. "The horse lay there sort of helpless. Finally we had to drag him out part of the barn and drag him out."

Baker said he then returned the horse to Goldstein and demanded his money back. Goldstein testified that he bought back the horse from Baker for $20. This was denied by the complainant, who alleged that Goldstein sold the horse to another purchaser for $55. Goldstein said that when the horse was returned it showed signs of ill treatment, and he offered to prove to Judge Dolan that it could both lie down and get up "as advertised." The court declined to witness the exhibition.

Sells Flies, Dodges Boxcar for a Bed

CLEVELAND, O.—The 10 cents a hundred for the city pays for dead flies enabled Harry Carmine, a Chicago tinner, to pay for a bed in a "flop house" the other night, instead of sleeping in a box car, as he had done the night before.

Carmine called at the municipal bureau at the city hall shortly before it closed and inquired if it were true that the city paid 10 cents a hundred for dead flies. Being assured that was the truth, he departed and returned in a short time.

"This isn't any kid, is it?" he inquired. "We pay 10 cents a hundred for the bodies of flies," Miss Florence Duerlinger, in charge of the bureau, replied.

"Well, here is a bunch then," said Carmine.

Carmine. "I'll be back tomorrow with a cigar box full." "I got in here from Chicago Wednesday night in a box car. It was mighty cold, too."

"I came down town early and started out in hunt of work. There was nothing doing, and at noon I sat down to rest in one of the shelter houses on the square. I picked up a paper and read where they were paying 10 cents a hundred for dead flies."

"I said to myself, 'Here is where Harry sleeps between the sheets this evening.'"

"I went to a saloon and asked if they would allow me to catch flies in the front window. They told me to get out, and I tried a butcher shop with the same result."

"I then went to two or three of the market houses. Luck was better, and I had a whole handful of flies when I hunted up the city hall. It was hard work, though."

Boy Five Years Old is Heavy Weight

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—"Bill Coulter, aged five years, weight 110 pounds, was at the Union depot here on his way from his home at Springdale, Ark., to St. Joseph, Mo., to enter a hospital. Bill was accompanied by his father, R. H. Coulter, a farmer in Arkansas. The boy is troubled with softening of the bones, and his legs have bent under his weight to such an extent that he can hardly walk."

"How do you feel this morning, Bill?" his father asked him. "Pop, I feel big enough to whip a man," he answered. And "Bill" doubled up his fist in "white hope" style.

"How much did Bill weigh when he was born?" was the question put to the father. "Only nine pounds," he said, "and he didn't grow much until he was six months old. Then, when he was a little over a year old he weighed 37 pounds; when he was two and a half he weighed 67. In the last three years he has gained 43 pounds. Bill is a heavyweight all right, ain't you, Bill?" "You bet," "Bill" said.

"Bill" was born and reared in Grand Junction, Colo. He has lived in Arkansas for nine months. It took him five months to get acclimated, and in the time since he has gained ten pounds—and is still growing. "Bill's weight was so great that his legs couldn't support him," his father said, "and we had to put braces on him when he was three years old. He wore them out and for the last eight months he hasn't had any. That is the reason his legs are bowed so now. We are going to a hospital to have them straightened."

for a drink just rendered, Mayor Cass Lexington, will be paid a salary of $3,000 a year, as provided under the "commission form."

Now that an Austrian countess in Vienna has eloped with an American instructor in roller skating, one more peril resulting from the fatal beauty of American men stands revealed.

The Horse is Still King

A dispatch says: "In the horse and mule department of the Kansas City Stock Yards it begins to look like war, owing to the urgent demand of the United States army for horses and mules. Dealers who recall conditions prior to the Boer War, the Russo-Japanese War, as well as the Spanish-American War, declare that the demands for army horses and mules means war with Mexico."

Pensions Are Held Up by Democrats

The payment of thirty million dollars in pensions to veterans of the Mexican and Civil Wars is held up at Washington because of the delay in Congress on the pension appropriation bill.

"WHITE MAN'S PARTY"

Roosevelt Leaders Make Southern Negroes Take a Back Seat —That's "Progressive"

Chicago Record-Herald. Southern Negro delegates have been informed by the National Provisional Committee of the Progressive party that the organization is to be a "white man's party"—at least as far as Dixieland is concerned.

To emphasize it, the colored brethren were "steam rolled" Saturday in a manner which left them crushed and speechless. They were bluntly told they were being offered up as a sacrifice to the Southern Democratic "white" vote.

If they want to ride on the rear seats of the band wagon they can do so—even cast their vote for Roosevelt if they wish—but they must keep quiet and not attempt to obtain leadership.

"Am I going back home and tell my children was disfranchised in the very city and almost across the street from where Abraham Lincoln, fifty-two years ago, made the fight which led to our enfranchisement?" shouted Perry W. Howard, the Mississippi Negro, who in the Republican National Convention had the distinction of having been selected by both the Taft and Roosevelt factions as a delegate.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed. Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed it is sure to be of great benefit. The careful of its health can do without such a laxative. But the question of which laxative to use is also of vast importance. No laxative more highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

A large number of lambs are being shipped from Marion county at the present time. It is conservatively estimated that between 8,000 and 9,000 lambs were shipped out of that county during the month of July. On the Louisville market they are bringing from $7.25 to $7.50.

The people of the United States consumed over 8,000,000 gallons more of whisky and over 113,000,000 more of beer in the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1911, than they did in the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1910, according to the official figures of R. E. Cavitt, United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

HIS FIRST CIRCUS

Colonel Will Owens Tells About the Good Old Times in Maysville in 1846

There are certain things which remain in our memory box as long as life may last—a little quiet at times; but a sudden thought or action will awaken them, they are plainly brought to view, and we live them over again for a time; then put them back onto their proper shelf for future use.

With me today is the vision of my first circus. All who once permitted to enter fair-land can forget the picture of his first circus? I was one of two six-year-old boys who were being taken to a circus for the first time. The tent occupied a vacant lot on the South side of Second street, below Fish (now Wall) street about the year 1846. The man had picked out me because I was his brother-in-law, and had selected Ben Jacobs because he was the son of a friend who was a fellow tradesman. Fish street was a long distance from home; but the goal was a circus, the Mecca of young boys.

And this was a first circus to these boys. At home they were used to the light of one candle in a room. Imagine, then, with what wonder their eyes were startled by the glare from not less than a hundred candles, shining from a pyramid of rings, hanging suspended around the center-pole, which supported the tent. These rings could be raised or lowered as the exigencies of the business demanded. The lights shone upon the happy faces of other boys and men, woman and girls, who all looked happy. It was my fair-land in gala dress.

And there was the band. What inspiring music! Not a sad note in their entire selection. Circus music of the olden times seemed always to me to be in a class by itself. In after years a strain or theme, coming in a piece of music being played by a modern band, would strike my ear and instantly the vision of the circus would come up, to be re-enjoyed for a brief minute. And the memory-heart was gladdened at the remembrance of the happiness of other days.

Soon the men came to raise the lights and make preparation for the first event of the evening—the grand entrance. With a great fan fare from the band, the procession entered the ring. It was a fairing for the boys, the grandest ever which has remained with me for over sixty-five years. I have seen other grand entrances, other parades, but none ever came up to this one—never. Then came the riders, the clowns, and the ringmaster, and the little lady who, while riding on horse back jumped through the paper-covered hoop amid the plaudits of a pleased crowd.

After this a performer came into the ring, and a small cannon was placed on the back of his neck and shoulders. While being held there by his hands, a man took a cigar from his mouth and touched priming powder with the spark and the cannon went off with a loud report. The man who held the cannon seemed to be unmoved. A larger man came into the ring; a larger cannon was placed on his neck and shoulders; the spark of a cigar applied, and a much louder report ensued, while the man stood unmoved by the effect.

A house was built in the ring; a young lady appeared and entered the house, showing herself at an open window. A torch was applied, and soon the structure was in flames. The lady at the window making a cry for help, a white horse riderless, ran into the ring, and rushed into the burning house, coming out almost immediately bearing on his back the young lady. The band played and the people shouted and applauded, and the ring men put out the fire and cleared up the mess, getting ready for the next performance.

I have never heard or read of this horse's act being repeated by any other horse in this country. But some years afterward I read about a horse in Astley's Circus in London, England, which could do the same.

And then came the clamor that woke up the boys to the realization of the fact that for them fair-land had closed for the night. The ringmaster and the clown came on and the clown was very faintly disposed, so much so, that our protecting friend tried to "kill" the clown; but the clown shot back his repartee with such a certain aim that the laugh that followed made our protector angry, and he suddenly arose and left the tent taking the boys away with him, thus shutting out the lights and scenes so fast unfolding to them.

"Sic transit gloria."
At this time, and for some years later, the animal show and the circus were not connected. The animal show was liberally patronized, being recognized by all people, while the circus was under a cloud. One time there came an animal show and put up its tent next to a circus tent, known as "Rivers' Circus."

After the animal show was closed, one had the privilege of going to the circus, while the good people went home. The next year Barnum, the inimitable showman, advertised an animal show and circus under one tent, one price of admission to both. Then came the discussion as to whether it was right to go to an animal show having a circus attachment. Some were in favor of cutting out the whole thing; while others, more liberal, said that one might go to the animal show, but need not stay to see the circus.

While the discussion was going on, Elder James Haven of the Christian Church came into the office of The Express on a matter of business. Major Ross, of happy memory, said, "Elder, we want you to settle a point. We are to have the animal show and the circus all in one this year. Now, is it wrong for Church members to attend?"

"Well," said the Elder, "it is generally conceded that it is not wrong, but highly beneficial for one to attend the animal show. Therefore as it is not wrong to do so, they may attend the animal show; but it is not in human nature for them to leave when the circus begins."

FAIR IS UNDER TWENTY HEADS

Kentucky's Big Show Is Divided Into Departments Under Efficient Chiefs

THE ORGANIZATION IS IDEAL

Member of Board of Agriculture to be in Charge of Each Branch of Work Assisted by Competent Superintendent.

Twenty departments have been arranged for at the Kentucky State Fair this year and each department will be presided over by a member of the State Board of Agriculture, and in addition to the various departments having the personal supervision of a member of the board each has been provided with a competent superintendent, thus insuring to exhibitors and visitors alike careful attention. The following is the manner in which the departments have been arranged and the member of the board and the superintendent in charge of each: Horses, Commissioner J. W. Newman, member in charge, R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg, superintendent; Mules and Jack Stock, James M. Terry, Cynthiana, member, Guthrie M. Wilson, Bardonia, superintendent; Beef Cattle, R. J. Bassett, Leitchfield, member, W. R. Moorman, Jr., Glendale, superintendent; Dairy Cattle, M. A. Scovell, Lexington, member, E. A. Farra, Nicholasville, superintendent; Swine, J. L. Letterie, Harpids Creek, member, L. C. Owings, Jeffersontown, superintendent; Sheep and Goats, H. M. Froman, Ghent, member, W. T. Chilton, Campbellburg, superintendent; Poultry and Pigeons, J. W. Newman, member, J. L. Gribble, Louisville, superintendent; Vegetables and Melons, J. L. Letterie, member, Charles Scholtz, Jr., Louisville, superintendent; Field Seed and Grain, G. N. McGrew, Bayou, member, H. C. Lovelace, Boston, superintendent; Tobacco, James M. Terry, member, Judge Frank P. Sebrée, Carrollton, superintendent; Horticulture, Fred R. Blackburn, Staunton, member, W. H. Clayton, Hebron, superintendent; Woman's Department, G. N. McGrew, member, Mrs. H. S. Vansant, Frankfort, superintendent; Farming Implements, R. J. Bassett, Leitchfield, member, F. M. McKee, Versailles, superintendent; Forestry and Minerals, Fred R. Blackburn, member, George S. Lee, Carrollton, superintendent; Students Judging Contest, J. W. Newman, member, Prof. J. J. Hooper, Lexington, superintendent; Education, H. M. Froman, Ghent, member, Mrs. John L. Woodbury, Louisville, superintendent; Dairy Products, Fred R. Blackburn, member, Prof. J. J. Hooper, Lexington, superintendent. For the department for plants and flowers C. R. Van Meter, of Lebanon, will be the member in charge and he will also be in charge of the racing department, while in the dog department Prof. M. A. Scovell will be the member having direct supervision.

Already the members in charge of the various departments as well as the superintendents have gone to work to assist Secretary Dent and Assistant Secretary L. B. Shropshire in arranging for the exhibits in their departments and from now until the gates are thrown open to the public the morning of Monday, September 9, these officials will be kept busy completing the details for the big show.

BENCH SHOW A FEATURE

Of Kentucky State Fair—Will Probably Be Greatest Dog Display Ever Seen in State.

Perhaps the biggest and best dog show ever seen in Kentucky, will be witnessed at the Kentucky State Fair the week of September 9-14. Heretofore the dog show feature of the State Fair has been confined exclusively to collies, but this year the management has decided to have a bench show for all breeds of dogs, and to that end dog fanciers throughout the state have been invited to participate in the show. Since the invitations were first issued by the management through the press several weeks ago many of the fanciers in every section of the state have joined the movement to make this feature of the fair a success. It is doubtful if there is a breed of dog known to this section of the country that is not bred and raised in Kentucky, and it is the purpose of the officials of the fair to have every breed represented. For several years the breeders of dogs, other than collies, have endeavored to interest the management of the State Fair in a bench show that would include all breeds. The bench show will be under the personal supervision of a man who is well versed in the breeding of dogs, and valuable prizes will shortly be named, to be distributed to the winners in the various classes.

The show will be held under the rules of the American Kennel Club. A bench show with the approval of the American Kennel Club will more than likely attract high-class dogs from New York, Chicago and all parts of the country.

Clam Chowder

Tommy Dewitt managed by living frugally in summer to pay his winter's expenses at college. As soon as the school year closed, Tommy was off for parts unknown, and it would have interested his friends mightily if they could have seen him living like Robinson Crusoe on an island off the coast of Maine, catching his own fish, setting his own lobster pots, planting vegetables in a tiny garden and making chowder out of a handful of clams, two potatoes and an onion.

"That's a clambake," said the youngest of the crowd, a girl in a white serge suit with a short blue reefer. "Oh, I'm so glad, for I am starved."

Further progress showed a fire with a small iron pot set over the coals. A savory steam rose from the pot.

"But there isn't much of it," said the girl.

"Who's been eating my soup?" quoted a gay voice, and around the corner of a sandhill came Tommy. "Oh," said the four intruders, staring. And well might they stare, for while Tommy lived like Robinson Crusoe, he wore a snowy white middie blouse and white trousers, his fair hair was brushed up from his forehead and shone in the sunlight, and his strong young figure showed the effect of good training and outdoor sports.

"We don't mean to intrude," said the oldest lady of the crowd, "but we are exploring the islands; we didn't know this one was inhabited."

"And there's something the matter with our boat," said the girl in the blue reefer, "and being women, we don't know how to fix it."

"Delighted," said poor Tommy. "But I hope you're not keen for chowder. There's only a taste. You see, I cook for one; but such as it is, it's yours."

He busied himself in serving the simple meal. And while he worked he listened. The girl's name, he discovered, was Helena.

"You enjoy living the simple life?" said the oldest dame, whose name was Mrs. Griggs.

Tommy nodded. "It's great," he said. "If you will stay for supper we'll have broiled fish and baked potatoes, and there's some lettuce left in my garden."

"We'll stay," said the girl, "if you'll fix our boat."

All that afternoon Tommy tinkered and the girl watched him while the three elderly ladies took a nap in the warm sand.

Then Tommy went out and caught a fish, and broiled it over the coals.

"And I'm sorry to tell you, ladies," he said, as he served it, "that your boat isn't mended, and that you will have to make yourselves comfortable for the night. I shall be glad to offer you the hospitality of my tent. In the morning a boat stops here with provisions. You can leave on that."

Since there was nothing else to be done, they consented, and after the fish was eaten Tommy and the girl walked down the beach.

They talked of many things; and Tommy lay awake half the night, wondering how he had believed that life was worth living until now.

He slept on the other side of the sandhill from the tent, and waked at dawn. After a plunge in the sea, he went forth in his snowy white suit to face the sunrise.

The girl was up and came down to the beach to meet him in the stillness of the wonderful morning. "The sea is like a pearl," she whispered, "and the sky like an opal."

We Might!

Lie and sell a suit, but it doesn't pay. We might run a lottery to try and get business, but it's putting business on a very low basis. We might keep open on Sunday and sell more goods, but it's against the law, and we like to be law-abiding citizens. We might make money, but not a dollar could we take away with us, so we decided when we started in business to tell the truth, not run any lotteries, keep closed on Sundays and sell as a live-and-let-live-profit, making friends each day and getting business the best, latest and highest way. Our sale of Men's and Boys' Suits at the reduced prices is one of our ways of doing business in the mid-season. Come in as soon as you can.

Announcements.

To the Democratic Voters of Mason County: Whereas, the untimely death of my predecessor in office, Mr. W. P. Dickson, rendered it necessary that the vacancy in the office of the Clerk of the Mason County Court shall be filled at the regular November election, I take this means of announcing to the Democratic voters of Mason County my candidacy for said office, subject to the result of the State Primary election to be held August 30, 1912. Your support is respectfully solicited.

THE OSKAMP JEWELRY COMPANY, CINCINNATI, O., February 25th, 1912.

To Whom This May Concern: This is to certify that John L. Walsh was employed by me, for the Oskamp Jewelry Co., as watchmaker for a considerable period and during that time his work was entirely satisfactory and he was especially adept in repairing fine watches and chronographs, and it gives me great pleasure to recommend him as a first-class watchmaker.

HARD JOBS!

Bring us the work others can't do. We are thoroughly prepared to do your difficult work. If you break your prescription lenses don't send them away and do without them for a week or ten days. Bring the pieces to us and get an exact duplicate of your old lenses in less than twenty-four hours. If you can find no part of the old lenses remember we are prepared to make thorough examinations for glasses. We know more about making and fitting glasses than your oculist will ever learn. Optics is his side line.

For Sale!

Store and 14 Acres of Land.

We have just had placed in our hands for sale the very desirable property of Mrs. Kate Cook, located at Mill Creek Church, 10 miles from Maysville; 6 miles of Flemingsburg and 2 1/2 from Marshall Station, on the Maysville and Mt. Sterling Pike.

The improvements consist of 6 room frame house, practically new, store building, small slaughter house, ice house, chicken house, coal house, turkey pen and stables; plenty of fruit and an abundance of water. There is also about 14 acres of land, which makes this a very desirable place for a good live merchant and trader, or will make a nice country home, as it is convenient to school, church and railroad. We have the price very reasonable on this kind of property. You can't begin to put the improvements there for what we will ask you for the entire place—$3,250.
